Broadcasting, which uses the public airwaves free of charge, is planning to directly violate federal election law by airing an overtly political, one-sided documentary days before the Presidential election.

Regardless of party affiliation, Americans should be outraged. If your commission, whose mission is to regulate use of our country's airwaves, allows this kind of clear manipulation of public resources, you will have clearly failed in your duty. Please do not allow our public airwaves to become a tool for rank partisanship. Thank you.
